AMERICAN ARMORED SPEARHEADS CROSS SEINE NEAR PARIS; GERMANS MAY WITHDRAW WITHOUT FIGHTING

Other Allied Forces Forge New Trap Around Nazi Units Which Escaped from Falaise-Argentan Pocket—French Columns, Aiming at Isolation of German Forces at Toulon, Are Nearing That City.

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 21.—(INS)—American armored spearheads stormed across the Seine river at several places 25 miles northwest of Paris today amid indications that the Germans were prepared to abandon the French capital to the Allies without a fight.

Third Army troops under command of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., crossed to the east bank of the Seine at several places in the area of Gassicourt, dispatches from the front reported.

Other Allied forces, forging a new trap around German units which escaped from the Falaise-Argentan pocket, reached the Seine river in the vicinity of Mantes and Gassicourt in pursuit of the fleeing enemy.

With French Forces Before Toulon, Aug. 21.—(INS)—French columns, aiming at the complete isolation of German forces in the great French naval base of Toulon, were within less than five miles of the city today.

The guests of honor received many other beautiful gifts.

One of their grandchildren, James Lucci, Philadelphia, was married on Saturday and he and his bride arrived at the Palermos home Saturday evening for the party, which also was a reception in their honor.

TRADE AGREEMENTS HAVE TOTALLY FAILED

Reciprocal Trade Agreements Initiated 10 Years Ago Complete Failure

COST U. S. $300,000,000

Reciprocal trade agreements, initiated 10 years ago in June, have been a complete failure and offer "no basis for solution of our postwar international economic problems," Dr. John Lee Coulter, economic consultant and former member of the United States Tariff Commission, said yesterday.

Not only has the trade agreements policy failed to achieve any of its purposes, he declared, but revenue figures indicate that it cost the country between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 annually in revenue.

"Ten years ago," he said, "the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act was hailed as a measure to provide employment, stimulate exports, create good will, preserve enduring peace throughout the world, and solve all the economic ills of society."

"Objective study now discloses that, far from achieving these aims, the agreements resulted in just the opposite. Some specific illustrations may now be cited."

"(1) It is only necessary to note in passing the failure of Reciprocal Trade Agreements to promote good will or prevent aggression and devastating wars."

"(2) In the matter of foreign trade, the goal was to promote exports—so as to increase opportunities for greater industrial employment at home. This too failed. The physical volume of exports during the 5 year period (1935-1939) before interruption by war averaged only 80% of the volume of exports during the preceding prosperity period—1925-1929. Dollar value of exports during 1935-1939 was only 60% of the volume in 1925-1929."

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

All Out of Proportion

Washington, Aug. 19. THE near hysteria of the New Deal fourth-term journalistic brigade over the original restrictions, imposed by Congress in the Taft amendment on the distribution to the armed forces of "political argument and propaganda" along with the silly way in which those restrictions were interpreted by the War Department, was so extreme as to arouse some suspicion that, perhaps, the confidence with which they were imbued a short time ago had begun to seep out and their sense of proportion been affected accordingly.

LISTENING TO THE SHRIIL CRIES

from Administration spokesmen one easily could have believed that a really dreadful crime had been committed. There was a vast jumping up and down, beating of breasts and tearing of hair. "Are we," it was demanded, "going to take this lying down?" Every American with a spark of courage, it was declared, should explode over this outrage. Millions of citizens should so howl that those responsible would flee from their wrath. "Our fighting men" were being treated as idiots, imbeciles, morons and worse. It was degraded. It was dishonorable. The blood of every free American should boil. It was an insult. It was part of the low Republican plot to disfranchise the soldiers. It involved shocking distrust of "our fighting men."

THE ABOVE are mere samples. Conceding the ineptitude of the amendment, it is difficult to recall any incident quite as small which has produced so violent, unrestrained, lopsided an outburst. The best commentary on it is that the American people, who were exhorted to explode and whose blood, according to the fourth termers, Continued on Page Two

JOHNSON AND TRUMAN

(Doylestown Intelligencer, August 19th)

In the lives of the American Presidents there is a tragic chapter which ought to be read again this year.

As America faces her second great Reconstruction period, it should be remembered that she missed the boat in her first Reconstruction because a vice-president chosen for political expediency proved totally inadequate to meet the post-Civil War problems which Lincoln's assassination made his responsibility.

In no single detail is the difference between Republican and Democratic points of view this year more striking than in their choices for vice-president.

The Republicans are running Governor Bricker, for many years the successful executive of a large and complicated state; a man of sufficient outstanding merit himself to be a principal contender for the Presidency.

The Democratic candidate is Senator Truman, scion of the Prendergast political machine, stooge of the other big-city machine bosses—the Hagues, Kellys, Flynn and O'Connells. His only recent public service has been some discreet barking at political misuse of the war effort; he has been a sort of chained fox-terrier, warning more burglars than he has bitten.

The most enthusiastic and unrestrained New Deal eulogist will hardly dare say that Senator Truman has either unearthed or punished the bulk of waste and plunder by political favorites during the war effort.

If the next elected President were to die or to leave office for other reason, one of these two men would succeed him. In that light, these candidates have an importance only slightly less than that of the actual heads of the ticket.

The story of Andrew Johnson, seventeenth President of the United States, is the tragedy of a man elevated by compromise, expediency and chance to responsibilities he could not handle.

Johnson was greatly honored by the Democratic party—and accepted these honors without qualm although opposed to his party on the major issue of the day, that of slavery.

Offered the vice-presidency as a piece of political expediency by Republican supporters of Lincoln calling themselves the Union Party, he accepted; was elected; and on Lincoln's death became President.

To the presidency he brought neither steadfastness nor tact; neither strength or leadership. He could neither guide nor control. Suspected by both political parties, he succeeded in estranging from his administration both the victorious North and the defeated South.

Congress flared into revolt. Eventually Johnson was impeached, and missed conviction by only one vote. He died, broken hearted, embittered and unhonored.

But the tragedy was more than a personal one; it approached being a national calamity. The extremists of the day, those who believed in reconstruction by force, Continued on Page Four

TO STUDY REQUEST OF VETERANS FOR VOCATIONAL WORK

Such Type Schools Are Desired It Is Stated

SPECIAL MEETING

Explore Possibilities To Provide Such For "Vets." Children

Bucks County Board of School Directors will hold a special meeting, Wednesday, to study the requests of Bucks County veterans for vocational schools for Bucks County veterans and their children.

Walter S. Miller, Parkland, president of the county board and the Bucks County School Directors' Association is anxious that no time be lost in exploring various possibilities to provide vocational training for veterans. Dr. Paul Cressman, Deputy Superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction, has accepted President Miller's urgent request to be present at the special meeting of the County Board.

He has also invited interested members of the veterans' organizations to be present.

County Superintendent Charles H. Boehm learned that the State Council of Education will survey vocational education needs in Bucks County. For quite some time some of Bucks educators have felt that vocational training in Bucks has long been overdue. At present, the most active group interested in vocational education is the veterans.

R. J. Murray, Captain George Butler, and others have been pushing the movement in the County Seat.

Only recently it was learned that there was a nine hundred per cent increase in the members of high school graduates working in factories.

Dewey Demands Curb On Nazi and 'Jap' Armament

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, today demanded the permanent "neutralization" of German and Japanese armament producing industries as "an essential peace objective."

He proposed enforcement of this plan in the initial stages by the major Allied powers waging war against Germany and Japan, and ultimately by the permanent international security organization expected to be set up following the war.

Governor Dewey gave his program to newspapermen here following a week-end conference with John Foster Dulles, the Governor's personal representative in the scheduled post-war security conversations with Secretary of State Cordell Hull in Washington.

Simultaneously, the Governor revealed that Mr. Dulles would meet in New York tomorrow with Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican Presidential candidate, for an exchange of views with Mr. Willkie preliminary to Mr. Dulles' first conference with Mr. Hull on Wednesday. Also, before seeing the Secretary of State, Mr. Dulles will confer in Washington with Republican members of the House and Senate in an endeavor to obtain Republican views on postwar security.

Governor Dewey said he was seeking personally, and through Mr. Dulles, to obtain "all shades of opinion" so that whatever peace plan is adopted "will have year-in and year-out support of our people regardless of the administration that may be in power at the moment."

PESSIMISTS WRONG AGAIN

The rapid advance of the Allied armies in France obviously increases the scope of the rehabilitation program undertaken by the United Nations through the UNRRA, but the forecasts of the 1944 harvest in this country indicate that America will be able to perform its huge share of the task of feeding the suffering people of France without great difficulty.

It is remarkable that America should be blessed with one excellent harvest after another in the very years when the world's plight is greatest. There were pessimists after the attack on Pearl Harbor who contended that the American people faced a terrible food shortage as a result of giving so much away through lend-lease and through aiding peoples in the various war zones.

When food rationing was most rigid, the prophecies of the pessimists were blackest. The harvest of 1942 proved a record one, and then the forecasters of woe said it would be impossible that 1943 could be a good year, too. Yet, 1943 turned out to be a bountiful year, although not quite as good as the record-topping 1942. Now the Department of Agriculture reports that despite drought damage in July in a large East Central area of this country, the aggregate crop production this year seems likely to exceed last year's output by 2 or 3 per cent, and to exceed production in any previous year with the exception of 1942.

The department reveals that the indicated crop production coupled with the livestock output will make this year's production of all agricultural commodities the largest on record. Even the former "dust bowl" of the southern Great Plains region is reaping wheat yields considerably higher than the national average.
In fact, latest reports bear out forecasts of the largest wheat crop ever produced in this country and one of the largest corn crops.

Too much credit cannot be given to the farmers for their response to patriotic appeals to raise more food, but if the weather had been extremely bad even the best efforts of the farmers would have been nullified to a large degree.

Dr. Carl F. Taeschel of the Agriculture Department says that because this country has been blessed with seven successive bumper crops in principal food, stuffs and fibers, some people are asking whether seven lean years now face the country. His answer in the Scientific Monthly is: "Not necessarily."

As he points out, part of the
gain in food production is the result of better cultivation and increased power and efficiency of farm machinery, while more important, perhaps, has been the increased efficiency of the crop plants themselves brought about by developments in plant breeding.

In some cities meat customers are numbered, which makes the game more interesting. Always there is the chance of getting the other fellow's steak.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Aug. 9, 1883. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

At a special meeting of council last Monday night privilege was granted the Telephone Company to erect poles within the borough. It will not be long before we have telephonic connection with the rest of the world.

The Presbyterian church is minus 12 Sunday School teachers who are enjoying summer tours at the seaside and mountain resorts.

It is said that a petition for the opening of Jefferson avenue to the Beaver Dam road will soon be presented to council.

The Bristol Hosiery Mills manufacture large quantities of bicycle stockings for which they have a good trade.

One of Bristol's lamp lighters rides from post to post in the discharge of his daily duties.

A special meeting of council was called last Monday evening to take action on the counter proposition of the Water Company to the borough for fire plugs. The offer made by Council at the former meetings was $600 per annum "for the use of water through fireplugs for all municipal purposes except sprinkling the streets." The offer was rejected, and the Water Company sent in the following proposition in its stead.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bristol Water Company, held on the 4th day of August, 1883, a communication from the Burgess of the Borough of Bristol, containing a proposition from the Town Council to this company for furnishing water through fire plugs for extinguishing fires . . . was read, and after the subject had been deliberately considered, the . . . resolution was adopted . . .

(Following items called from The Bucks County Gazette, issue of August 16, 1883.)

Tomatoes have been selling as low as 15 cents per basket; cantalou-pes at 30 cents, and peaches are from 50 cents to $1, according to quality.

The Otter Creek railroad bridge is finished.

Croquet is the rage in the second ward.

Some brakemen were observed yesterday throwing off coal from coal trains to a couple of girls who were gathering it in baskets.

The measure looking to the opening of Jefferson avenue to the Beaver Dam road is taking form.
At the council meeting last Monday evening the ordinance committee was instructed to frame an ordinance extending the street.

The proposed extension will be of great advantage to that part of the third ward. Mr. James A. Palmer, in behalf of the Clark Electric Wire Company, stated to council at its meeting, that that company proposed erecting a number of dwelling houses on their property, and that they were negotiating with parties who wish to put a large furniture factory. As these buildings are all in the immediate vicinity of the proposed street, the necessity for its opening is very apparent.

The double tracks across Mill street were commenced to be laid on Tuesday. On Wednesday morning it was discovered that the tracks were considerably higher than agreed upon by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the borough authorities, and a halt was ordered. The chief engineer of the New York Division was telegraphed for and he and one or two other railroad officials came to Bristol in the afternoon. A conference was held, the result of which was the lowering of the track about one foot, and the agreement of the Railroad Company to grade and cover with Bergen cut stone the square from the railroad track to Pond street.

When finished, the job will likely be a good one, which will meet the approbation of the property holders interested.

Somewhere in the neighborhood of 200 Bristolians visited the Simpson Grove and Neshaminy Falls camp meetings last Sunday. A number of wagons and hacks were run for the accommodation of those desiring to go. The fare charged was 75 cents for the round trip.

Name D. C. Yerkes To The Dist. Pot. Committee

Russell K. Edwards, chairman of the Bucks County A. A. A. committee, announces the appointment of

D. Clifford Yerkes, Davisville, as a member of the district pot. committee to represent Bucks county.
Norman Oplinger, Bath, Pa., is the district chairman.

Since potato growers were assured a government support price when potatoes were planted and dry weather has prevailed over the early potato fields of Pennsylvania which will result in a percentage of small, and therefore unmarket-able potatoes, the War Food Administration will purchase these potatoes at government support prices, namely $1.07 per hundred pounds for size B potatoes, bagged, graded and loaded on cars at nearby sidings.

These potatoes will be sent to agricultural experiment stations to experiment for dairy, poultry and livestock feed. This committee will have charge if any surplus potatoes become available in the county.

THE GREAT GAME

OF POLITICS

should have boiled, remained not only perfectly calm but completely uninterested. So far as could be noticed there was no public reaction at all. Perhaps, this was because the usually undiscerning people sensed that no crime had been committed or was intended,
that here was a mistake which would correct itself and that to boil over about this would be ridiculous. For, the fact is that Senator Taft's amendment, so excitedly denounced, neither involved nor implied any distrust of our
"fighting men," but it did involve and imply a very emphatic distrust of the Roosevelt Administration, now seeking to hold on for another four years.

THIS DISTRICT has been well founded. Faith in the fairness of the OWI was destroyed long ago when it was caught sending abroad elaborate and expensive publications so eugenic of Mr. Roosevelt and his record that the head of the agency himself disclaimed responsibility and admitted some parts were indefensible. Nor has the presence in posts of authority in the foreign branch of the OWI of various fanatical New Dealers of the crusading type who think anything justified that will keep
Mr. Roosevelt in the White House tended to create confidence in the organization. It is true, however, that months ago the OWI turned over to the War Department the job of distributing news and information to the armed forces and,
therefore, was in no way involved in this matter.

NEVERTHELESS, the justified distrust of this Administration, with knowledge that it is without scruple in its fight to retain power, made an amendment along the Taft line proper and timely. It may have been badly phrased, but the intent was clear. What Senator Taft was trying to do was to make it impossible for the particular War Department bureau charged with this job to propagandize the soldier vote. Perhaps, the bureau would have been rigidly nonpartisan any-
how. On the other hand, the men in the bureau easily might have thought nonpartisan what really was partisan propaganda. That sort of thing is a question of individual judgment, bias and experience.
What Congress wanted to do was insure, so far as possible, against any propaganda. Therefore, it sought to lay down a rule that would have to be followed. Maybe that involved distrust of the War Department but it was distrust of the Administration.

CERTAINLY, it was not distrust of "our fighting men." However much confidence they may inspire as military men, there was no reason to place implicit faith in these bureau chiefs to distinguish, without some rule or instructions, between what is propaganda and what is not. It was—or anyhow, should have been—a new field for them. It was absurd to accuse Senator Taft of wanting to keep the Beard books away from the troops or of treating our fighting men like morons, or as being in any way responsible for the utterly indefensible and strained construction put on the amendment by the gentlemen of the bureau. The fact that they did so construe it is pretty good evidence of their need for guidance. Whether the man responsible for that nonsensical interpretation was a fool or whether he was an extremely subtle person who, in the interest of a fourth term, was trying to make the law ridiculous is not important. The important thing is that Congress has served notice of its purpose to make propaganda in this campaign for the armed forces impossible no matter what the agency or who the men in position to propagandize.

THE PROMPT and indignant disclaimer by Senator Taft of any sympathy with the absurd bureau interpretation and the speed with which Senator Taft, co-operating with Senator Green, aided the Senate in changing the law so as to meet the sound objections raised and to nullify its obvious distortions, was a convincing performance. It is expected that the House will quickly adopt the change and thus the incident will be ended for all save those who insist that blood must boil and the people explode.

PARKLAND, Aug. 21 — Miss Dorothy MacIver, a former resident of South Langhorne, now of St. Petersburg, Fla., became the bride on Saturday afternoon at four of Howard W. Dimter, M.M. 1-C, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Dimter, of Parkland.

The scene of the nuptial ceremony was Parkland Community Church, the Rev. John P. Cranston, pastor, officiating. Mr. William MacIver, of Southampton, gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride, a graduate of St. Petersburg high school, is a student nurse at Mount Park Hospital, St. Petersburg, and a member of the U. S. Nurse Cadet Corps. The groom, a graduate of Northeast High School, Philadelphia, has been overseas for the past 21 months.

The former Miss MacIver's sister, Miss Jane MacIver, of Southampton, was her only attendant; and Raymond Donnelly, M.M., of the U. S. Navy, whose home is in Parkland, served as best man.

The bridal costume, consisted of an informal gown, floor length, of white marquisette. Her net veil was attached to a heart-type head-dress of net which had trim of orange blossoms. Slippers were of white satin, and she carried a white prayer book topped by a lavender orchid. The bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of peach net; heart-type head-dress of matching tone, white satin slippers, and carried asters and roses in varied color tones.

Organ music for the ceremony was provided by Miss Winifred Sylvester, of Parkland, she also accompanying the vocalist, Mrs. Charles Kelch, of Hulmeville, Mrs. Kelch's offerings were "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

SULLIVAN'S HIT GIVES THE VOLTZ TEAM VICTORY

Rohm & Haas Nine Goes
Down To Defeat By
Score of 4 to 2

SHACKLETON IN BOX Keegan and Cervellero Hold Winners to Six Hits

A triple from the bat of "Eddie" Sullivan gave the Voltz-Texaco nine a close 4-2 triumph over the Rohm and Haas team yesterday afternoon on the Maple Beach diamond in a Trenton Industrial League tilt.

Sullivan's three-bagger came after G. Ritter had singled and Dewsnap reached base on an error. Sullivan later scored himself for the third run of the inning.

Hal Shackleton pitched for the gasoliers and succeeded in holding the Maple Beach clan to five scattered hits. The Rohm and Haas team scored both its runs with the aid of errors. Shackleton struck out six batters.

The hurlers for the losing aggregation were Danny Keegan and Paul Cervellero who held the winners to six hits. Manager George Dougherty had two out of four to lead the batters.

American Armored Spearheads Storm Across Seine Northwest of Paris

to find sanctuary in the French lines.

French authorities revealed that the Germans had heavily mined the territory west of Toulon in the mistaken belief that Allied landings would be attempted there. There was so much talk that Allied landings would take place east of the city that the Nazis discounted this possibility—and that's where the Americans struck on D-Day.

Allied naval guns are blasting the harbor defenses in support of the swiftly advancing ground forces, who stepped up their drive in an effort to keep the Germans off balance.

By International News Service
Victorious Allied advances in both northwestern and southern France were reported today by Allied communiques.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters disclosed that Allied units had reached the Seine River at the vicinity of Mantes and Gassicourt, northwest of Paris, in a move to prevent the retreat of trapped Nazi Seventh Army forces toward safety, while Allied units to the north made further progress toward Lisieux.

American Third Army forces were reported to have cleared the last Nazi defenders from the town of Argentan in Normandy.

Cows in profit or near springers brought about $100, and mature bulls sold from $70 to $120. Younger bulls and yearling heifers sold for about $50.

Three horses brought about $50 each, and a riding horse went to the high bidder for $90.

were stimulated. It is significant that the physical volume of imports during the 5 years 1925-1929, was almost exactly the same as during the prosperity period 1925-1929.

BRISTOL ALL-STARS WILL PLAY SECOND GAME OF THE SEASON HERE TOMORROW; MEET U. S. M. C. W. R. TEAM

The Bristol All-Stars will play its second game of the season tomorrow evening on the high school field meeting the USMC, Depot of Supplies, Women's Reserve. Game is scheduled to begin at 6:15 o'clock with State Senator Howard I. James tossing out the first ball. The proceeds of the game will be given to the Navy Relief Society.

Coach Frank Fields and his assistant, Joe Valenti, have announced that there will be no change in the All-Stars' lineup with the manager intending to give as many girls as possible a chance to get in the tilt.

The Marines' softball team has won 20 games this season and also captured the first half of the Women's All-Service Softball League of Philadelphia.

Leading the team is its coach and manager, Sgt. Gwendolyn "Tex" Shearer, first sacker, who established somewhat of a record in a recent game against Provident Mutual Field Club girls by getting four imports in 1937 were equal to, or greater than, any other year in our history for which data are available, including the boom year 1929.

"(4) Perhaps even more significant is the fact that our tariff reductions on more than a thousand import items lost the National Government an average of over $200,000,000 a year in revenue—comparing the two 5-year periods, 1925-1929 and 1935-1939. In 1939, customs duties collected were $300,000,000 less than in 1929.

"That means a loss of revenue of from two to three billion dollars in a ten year period—even though the physical volume of imports remained the same.

"In 1930 the ratio of duties collected to foreign invoice value of dutiable imports was 44.7 per cent; by 1940 the ratio had been reduced to 34.3 per cent, a reduction of almost 25 per cent, or equal to about a 40 per cent reduction on items upon which reductions had been made.

"(5) What about concessions by other countries? The truth is that few foreign countries have systems of income and profits taxes such as we have developed in the United States. In fact, before the war, the 60 leading nations and dominions home runs and driving in 12 runs. However, the team's leading hitter is PFC Mary Lou Lappen, of Boston, Mass. She is a former 3-letter athlete from LaSalle Junior College and plays third base. Her batting average is .560.

Mrs. Ted Ziemendorf, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., will handle the pitching assignment. Mrs. Ziemendorf joined the team recently to fill in for Lt. Isabel Butler, Lt. Butler, considered as one of the best women softball players in the country, was injured in a game against the WAVES.

The catching duties are handled by PFC Helen Levan, of Cataura, Pa. PFC Levan joined the team in mid-season and is noted for her batting in the pinches. She is sporting a .375 batting average.

Corp. Peggy Russell has a .545 average for the season and plays both shortstop or second base and also goes some pitching. She will most likely play shortstop against the All-Stars.

(outside of the United States and U. S. S. R.) had tariffs about double the average imposed by the United States in terms of total imports and total revenue collected.

"Less than 10 per cent of our normal national revenue comes from tariffs, whereas the foreign average is nearly 25 per cent of their total revenue, or five billion dollars, out of total annual revenue of about twenty billion dollars.

"They have not and perhaps cannot sacrifice their revenue in order to please the United States or to help us to carry out some new trade philosophy—certainly not merely to help us to build up our export market, although they are pleased to see us open our American market to their exports.

"Altogether, facts rapidly coming to light indicate that our Reciprocal Trade Agreements offers little or no basis for solving our postwar international economic problems. On the contrary, great harm may result if the American market is made a dumping ground for the products of foreign agriculture and labor with incomparably lower wages and living standards.

carried through their program virtually unchecked—and both North and South still bear the scars of the preventable wounds inflicted because a firm and skillful hand was missing at the national capital.

Were Truman to become President, he would find a Congress already sullen and restive, held down only by the pressure of the War; he would find a country staggering under a frightful national debt; he would find once more and at his elbow, claiming reward for having put him in office, the same old extremists of the Reconstruction-by-force school—communists, political bosses, labor over-lords, social-upheavalists. Also he would find a world torn with international stresses of which he hasn't the faintest conception.

One probably couldn't find, in all America, a hundred competent citizens who honestly believe that Senator Truman has the capacity, skill, integrity, determination and tact, plus the confidence of the American people, necessary to hold a tight rein over such unruly horses.

Yet a vote for the Democratic ticket is potentially a vote for Truman for President—during post-war reconstruction.

This is a good season to remember the old Railroad crossing sign:

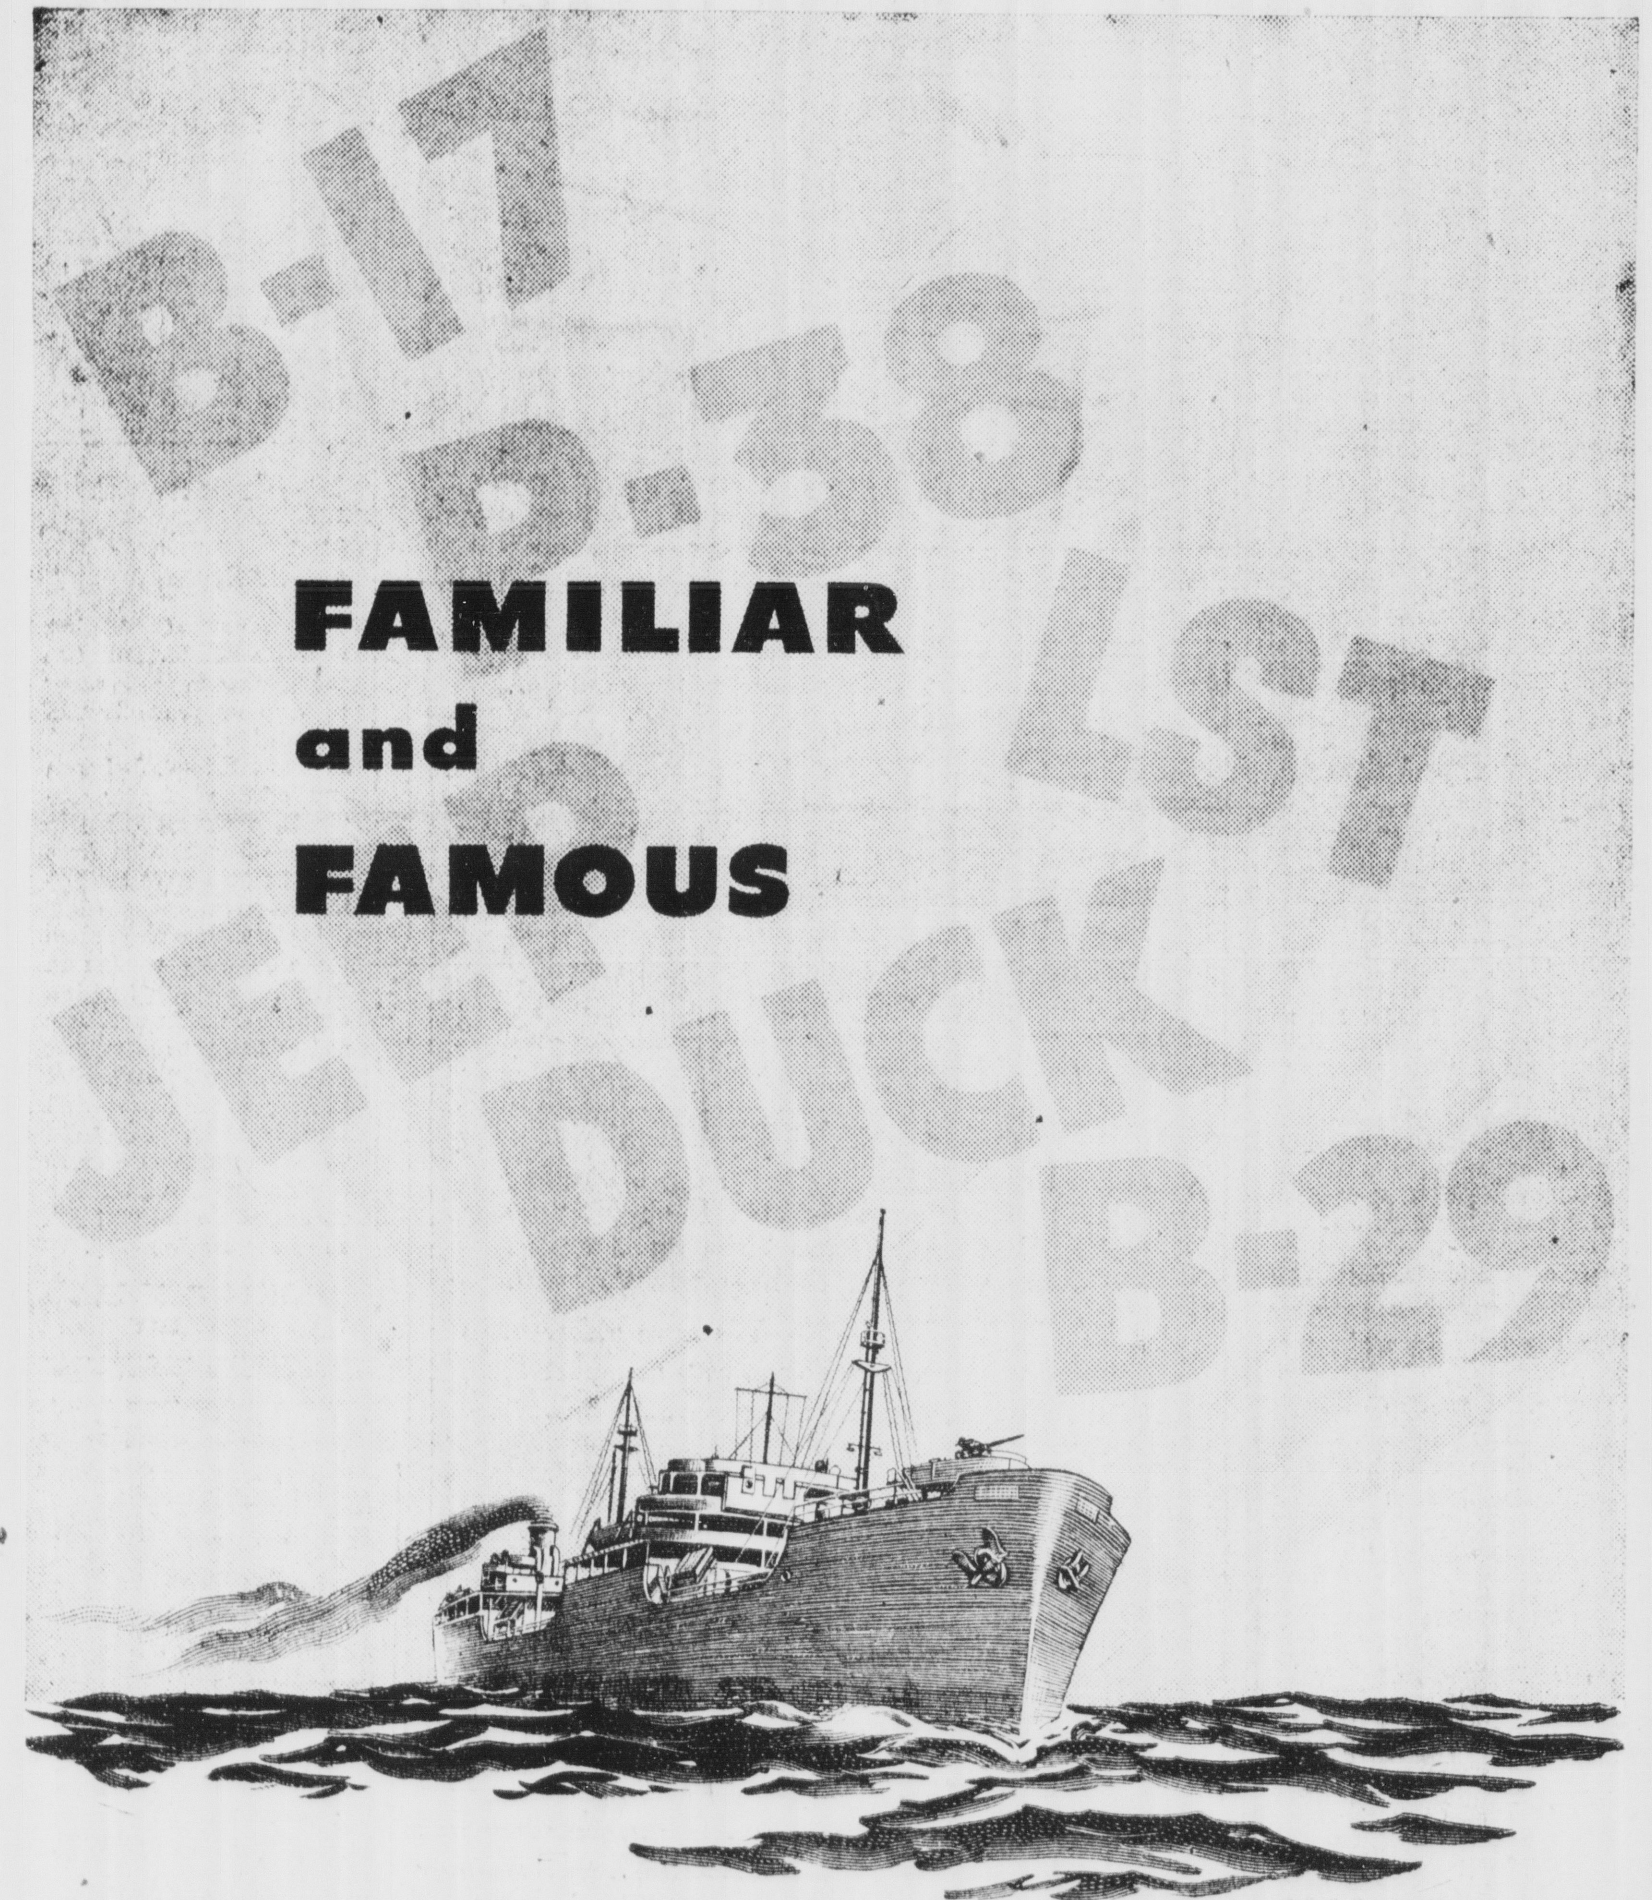

"Danger Ahead—Stop, Look and Listen."

DURING the past year America has acquired a new vocabulary. Men speak glibly now of LST's and know what they're talking about. B-17 has ceased to be a term known only to airplane designers... for the boy going to school knows that's the Flying Fortress... just as he has learned the B-29 is the "Superfortress."

Not so famous... because not so spectacular... is the T-2. But without the T-2, all the motorized might of our land, sea and air forces would be at a standstill. No plane would fly... no motorized equipment would roll... no ship patrol the oceans without the fuel Sunbuilt T-2 tankers carry to ports around the world.

From the Sun Shipyard at Chester six or more T-2 tankers take to the sea each month... six tankships of the most modern welded construction... each able to carry 5,500,000 gallons of gasoline at a far higher speed than pre-war tankers. Along with this increased speed on the sea, modern loading and unloading equipment has materially reduced the time spent in port... and speeded up oil deliveries to all fighting fronts. And that Sun Ship contribution toward winning the war would be even greater if additional manpower could be secured!

Other Allied Forces Forge New Trap Around Nazi Units

French Columns, Aiming at Isolation of German Forces at Toulon, Are Nearing That City.

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 21.—(INS).—American armored spearheads, crossing the Seine river at several places 25 miles northwest of Paris today amid indications that the Germans were prepared to abandon the French capital to the Allies without a fight.

Third Army troops under command of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., crossed to the east bank of the Seine at several places in the area of Gascogne, dispatches from the front reported.

Other Allied forces, forcing a new trap around German units which escaped from the Falaise-Argentan pocket, reached the Seine river in the vicinity of Mantes and Gisors in pursuit of the fleeing enemy.

With French Forces Before Toulon, Aug. 21.—(INS).—French columns, aiming at the complete isolation of German forces in the great French naval base of Toulon, were within less than five miles of the city today.

The Nazi garrison is already destroying harbor facilities and refugees are fleeing the bombed city.

TRADE AGREEMENTS HAVE TOTALLY FAILED

Reciprocal trade agreements, initiated 10 years ago in June, have been a complete failure and offer "no basis for solution of our postwar international economic problems," Dr. John Lee Coulter, economic consultant and former member of the United States Tariff Commission, said yesterday.

Not only has the trade agreements policy failed to achieve any of its purposes, he declared, but revenue figures indicate that it cost the country between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 annually in revenue.

"Ten years ago," he said, "the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act was hailed as a measure to provide employment, stimulate exports, create good will, preserve enduring peace throughout the world, and solve all the economic ills of society."

"Objective study now discloses that, far from achieving these aims, the agreements resulted in just the opposite. Some specific illustrations may now be cited."

"(1) It is only necessary to note in passing the failure of Reciprocal Trade Agreements to promote good will or prevent aggression and devastating wars."

"(3) Imports, on the other hand, Continued On Page Five

JOHNSON AND TRUMAN

In the lives of the American Presidents there is a tragic chapter which ought to be read again this year.

As America faces her second great Reconstruction period, it should be remembered that she missed the boat in her first Reconstruction because a vice-president chosen for political expediency proved totally inadequate to meet the post-Civil War problems which Lincoln's assassination made his responsibility.

In no single detail is the difference between Republican and Democratic points of view this year more striking than in their choices for vice-president.

The Republicans are running Governor Bricker, for many years the successful executive of a large and complicated state; a man of sufficient outstanding merit himself to be a principal contender for the Presidency.

The Democratic candidate is Senator Truman, scion of the Prendergast political machine, stooge of the other big-city machine bosses—the Hagues, Kellys, Flynn and O'Connells. His only recent public service has been some discreet barking at political misuse of the war effort; he has been a sort of chained fox-terrier, warning more burglars than he has bitten.

The most enthusiastic and unrestrained New Deal eulogist will hardly dare say that Senator Truman has either unearthed or punished the bulk of waste and plunder by political favorites during the war effort.

If the next elected President were to die or to leave office for other reason, one of these two men would succeed him. In that light, these candidates have an importance only slightly less than that of the actual heads of the ticket.

The story of Andrew Johnson, seventeenth President of the United States, is the tragedy of a man elevated by compromise, expediency and chance to responsibilities he could not handle.

Johnson was greatly honored by the Democratic party—and accepted these honors without qualm although opposed to his party on the major issue of the day, that of slavery.

Offered the vice-presidency as a piece of political expediency by Republican supporters of Lincoln calling themselves the Union Party, he accepted; was elected; and on Lincoln's death became President.

To the presidency he brought neither steadfastness nor tact; neither strength or leadership. He could neither guide nor control. Suspected by both political parties, he succeeded in estranging from his administration both the victorious North and the defeated South.

Congress flared into revolt. Eventually Johnson was impeached, and missed conviction by only one vote. He died, broken hearted, embittered and unloped.

Bucks County Board of School Directors will hold a special meeting, Wednesday, to study the requests of Bucks County veterans for vocational schools for Bucks County veterans and their children.

Walter S. Miller, Parkland, president of the county board and the Bucks County School Directors Association is anxious that no time be lost in exploring various possibilities to provide vocational training for veterans. Dr. Paul Cressman, Deputy Superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction, has accepted President Miller's urgent request to be present at the special meeting of the County Board.

He has also invited interested members of the veterans' organizations to be present.

County Superintendent Charles H. Boehm learned that the State Council of Education will survey vocational education needs in Bucks County. For quite some time some of Bucks educators have felt that vocational training in Bucks has long been overdue. At present, the most active group interested in vocational education is the veterans.

R. J. Murray, Captain George Butler, and others have been pushing the movement in the County Seat.

Only recently it was learned that there was a nine hundred per cent increase in the members of high school graduates working in factories.

Dewey Demands Curb On Nazi and 'Jap' Armament

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, today demanded the permanent "neutralization" of German and Japanese armament producing industries as "an essential peace objective."

He proposed enforcement of this plan in the initial stages by the major Allied powers waging war against Germany and Japan, and ultimately by the permanent international security organization expected to be set up following the war.

Governor Dewey gave his program to newspapermen here following a week-end conference with John Foster Dulles, the Governor's personal representative in the scheduled post-war security conversations with Secretary of State Cordell Hull in Washington.

Simultaneously, the Governor revealed that Mr. Dulles would meet in New York tomorrow with Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican Presidential candidate, for an exchange of views with Mr. Willkie preliminary to Mr. Dulles' first conference with Mr. Hull on Wednesday. Also, before seeing the Secretary of State, Mr. Dulles will confer in Washington with Republican members of the House and Senate in an endeavor to obtain Republican views on postwar security.

Governor Dewey said he was seeking personally, and through Mr. Dulles, to obtain "all shades of opinion" so that whatever peace plan is adopted "will have year-in and year-out support of our people regardless of the administration that may be in power at the moment."

PESSIMISTS WRONG AGAIN

The rapid advance of the Allied armies in France obviously
increases the scope of the rehabilitation program undertaken by the United Nations through the
UNRRA, but the forecasts of the 1944 harvest in this country indicate that America will be able to
of feeding the suffering people of France without great difficulty.

It is remarkable that America
should be blessed with one excellent harvest after another in
the very years when the world's
plight is greatest. There were pessimists after the attack on Pearl Harbor who contended that
the American people faced a ter-
giving so much away through
lend-lease and through aiding
peoples in the various war zones.

When food rationing was most
rigid, the prophecies of the pes-
of 1942 proved a record one, and
then the forecasters of woe said
it would be impossible that 1943
could be a good year, too. Yet, 1943 turned out to be a bountiful
year, although not quite as good
as the record-topping 1942. Now
the Department of Agriculture
reports that despite drought damage in July in a large East Central area of this country, the aggregate crop production this year
seems likely to exceed last year's
exceed production in any previous
year with the exception of 1942.

The department reveals that
the indicated crop production
will make this year's production
of all agricultural commodities
the largest on record. Even the
former "dust bowl" of the southern Great Plains region is reap-
higher than the national average.
In fact, latest reports bear out
forecasts of the largest wheat
crop ever produced in this country and one of the largest corn
crops.

given to the farmers for their re-
more food, but if the weather had
efforts of the farmers would have
been nullified to a large degree.

Dr. Carl F. Taensch of the Agriculture Department says that
blessed with seven successive
bumper crops in principal food
asking whether seven lean years
now face the country. His answer
in the Scientific Monthly is: "Not necessarily."

As he points out, part of the
result of better cultivation and increased power and efficiency of
farm machinery, while more important, perhaps, has been the
increased efficiency of the crop
plants themselves brought about
by developments in plant breeding.

game more interesting. Always
there is the chance of getting the
other fellow's steak.

(By Courier Staff Member)

issue dated at Bristol Aug. 9, 1883. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger
with the Courier.

last Monday night privilege was
granted the Telephone Company to
will not be long before we have
rest of the world.

The Presbyterian church is
minus 12 Sunday School teachers
who are enjoying summer tours at
the seaside and mountain resorts.

It is said that a petition for the opening of Jefferson avenue to the Beaver Dam road will soon be presented to council.

stockings for which they have a good trade.

One of Bristol's lamp lighters
rides from post to post in the discharge of his daily duties.

A special meeting of council was called last Monday evening to take
action on the counter proposition
of the Water Company to the borough for fire plugs. The offer made
by Council at the former meetings
was $600 per annum "for the use
of water through fireplugs for all
municipal purposes except sprinkling the streets." The offer was
rejected, and the Water Company
sent in the following proposition in
its stead.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bristol Water Company, held on the 4th day of August, 1883, a communication
from the Burgess of the Borough
of Bristol, containing a proposition from the Town Council to this company for furnishing water on Thursday for extinguishing fires . . . was read, and after
the subject had been deliberately

adopted . . .

(Following items culled from
of August 16, 1883.)

Tomatoes have been selling as
low as 15 cents per basket; cantalou-
pes at 30 cents, and peaches are from 50 cents to $1, according to quality.

The Otter Creek railroad bridge is finished.

Croquet is the rage in the second
ward.

Some brakemen were observed
yesterday throwing off coal from
were gathering it in baskets.

opening of Jefferson avenue to the Beaver Dam road is taking form.
At the council meeting last Monday evening the ordinance committee was instructed to frame an
ordinance extending the street.
The proposed extension will be of
great advantage to that part of
the third ward. Mr. James A. Palmer, in behalf of the Clark Electric Wire Company, stated to council
at its meeting, that that company
dwelling houses on their property,
and that they were negotiating
large furniture factory. As these
apparent.

street were commenced to be laid
on Tuesday. On Wednesday morning it was discovered that the
tracks were considerably higher

than agreed upon by the Pennsylv-
borough authorities, and a halt
was ordered. The chief engineer of the New York Division was telegraphed for and he and one or
two other railroad officials came
to Bristol in the afternoon. A conference was held, the result of
track about one foot, and the
agreement of the Railroad Company to grade and cover with Bergen cut stone the square from the railroad track to Pond street.
When finished, the job will likely
be a good one, which will meet
holders interested.

of 200 Bristolians visited the Simp-
son Grove and Neshaminy Falls
camp meetings last Sunday. A number of wagons and hacks were
run for the accommodation of
those desiring to go. The fare
trip.

Name D. C. Yerkes To The Dis't Potato Committee

Russell K. Edwards, chairman of the Bucks County A. A. committee, announces the appointment of

D. Clifford Yerkes, Davisville, as a member of the district potato committee to represent Bucks county.
Norman Oplinger, Bath, Pa., is the
district chairman.

Since potato growers were assured a government support price
when potatoes were planted and
dry weather has prevailed over the
early potato fields of Pennsylvania
of small, and therefore unmarket-
able potatoes, the War Food Administration will purchase these
potatoes at government support
prices, namely $1.07 per hundred
pounds for size B potatoes, bagged, graded and loaded on cars at near-
by sidings.

agricultural experiment stations to
experiment for dairy, poultry and
livestock feed. This committee will
have charge if any surplus potatoes become available in the county.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

should have boiled, remained not
only perfectly calm but completely
uninterested. So far as could be
action at all. Perhaps, this was because the usually undiscerning
people sensed that no crime had
been committed or was intended,
would correct itself and that to
boil over about this would be
ridiculous. For, the fact is that Senator Taft's amendment, so ex-
citedly denounced, neither involved
nor implied any distrust of our
and imply a very emphatic distrust
of the Roosevelt Administration,
now seeking to hold on for another
four years.

founded. Faith in the fairness of
the OWI was destroyed long ago
elaborate and expensive publications so eugenic of Mr. Roose-
responsibility and admitted some
parts were indefensible. Nor has
the presence in posts of authority
in the foreign branch of the OWI
of various fanatical New Dealers
anything justified that will keep
Mr. Roosevelt in the White House
tended to create confidence in the organization. It is true, however,
that months ago the OWI turned
over to the War Department the
job of distributing news and information to the armed forces and,
in this matter.

trust of this Administration, with
in its fight to retain power, made
an amendment along the Taft
line proper and timely. It may have been badly phrased, but the
intent was clear. What Senator Taft
was trying to do was to make it impossible for the particular War Department bureau charged with
vote. Perhaps, the bureau would
have been rigidly nonpartisan any-
how. On the other hand, the men
thought nonpartisan what really
was partisan propaganda. That sort
judgment, bias and experience.
What Congress wanted to do was
insure, so far as possible, against
any propaganda. Therefore, it
would have to be followed. Maybe that involved distrust of the War Department but it was not military distrust. Primarily, it was distrust of the Administration.

CERTAINLY, it was not distrust
of "our fighting men." However
much confidence they may inspire
as military men, there was no rea-
bureau chiefs to distinguish, with-
out some rule or instructions, between what is propaganda and
what is not it was—or anyhow,
should have been—a new field for
them. It was absurd to accuse Senator Taft of wanting to keep the
or of treating our fighting men like
morons, or as being in any way

responsible for the utterly inde-
fensible and strained construction
put on the amendment by the
gentlemen of the bureau. The fact that they did so construe it is
pretty good evidence of their need
for guidance. Whether the man responsible for that nonsensical interpretation was a fool or whether
he was an extremely subtle person
who, in the interest of a fourth

ridiculous is not important. The
important thing is that Congress
has served notice of its purpose to
for the armed forces impossible no
matter what the agency or who
the men in position to propagandize.

THE PROMPT and indignant disclaimer by Senator Taft of any

which Senator Taft, co-operating
with Senator Green, aided the Senate in changing the law so as to meet the sound objections raised
and to nullify its obvious distor-
tions, was a convincing performance. It is expected that the House will quickly adopt the change and
thus the incident will be ended for
must boil and the people explode.

Miss Dorothy MacIver Wed To H. W. Dimter, MM 1-C

PARKLAND, Aug. 21 — Miss Dorothy MacIver, a former resident of South Langhorne, now of St. Petersburg, Fla., became the bride on Saturday afternoon at four of Howard W. Dimter, M.M. 1-C, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Dimter, of Parkland.

The scene of the nuptial ceremony was Parkland Community Church, the Rev. John P. Cranston, pastor, officiating. Mr. William MacIver, of Southampton, gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride, a graduate of St. Petersburg high school, is a student nurse at Mount Park Hospital, St. Petersburg, and a member of the U. S. Nurse Cadet Corps. The groom, a graduate of North-east High School, Philadelphia, has been overseas for the past 21 months.

The former Miss MacIver's sister, Miss Jane MacIver, of Southampton, was her only attendant; and Raymond Donnelly, M.M., of the U. S. Navy, whose home is in Parkland, served as best man.

The bridal costume, consisted of an informal gown, floor length, of white marquisette. Her net veil was attached to a heart-type head-dress of net which had trim of orange blossoms. Slippers were of white satin, and she carried a white prayer book topped by a lavender orchid. The bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of peach net; heart-type head-dress of matching tone, white satin slippers, and carried asters and roses in varied color tones.

Organ music for the ceremony was provided by Miss Winifred Sylvester, of Parkland, she also accompanying the vocalist, Mrs. Charles Kelch, of Hulmeville. Mrs. Kelch's offerings were "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The newlyweds received a number of guests, following the ceremony, in Parkland Community House. They are participating in a week's honeymoon journey.

Accept, we pray Thee, our faint desires, and minister to them strength. Accept the confession which we make of our weakness and ignorance and pride and infirmity and heinous transgression. # SULLIVAN'S HIT GIVES THE VOLTZ TEAM VICTORY

Score of 4 to 2

SHACKLETON IN BOX
Keegan and Cervellero Hold Winners to Six
Hits

A triple from the bat of "Eddie" Sullivan gave the Voltz-Texaco nine a close 4-2 triumph over the Rohm and Haas team yesterday afternoon on the Maple Beach diamond in a Trenton Industrial League tilt.

Sullivan's three-bagger came after C. Ritter had singled and Dewey reached base on an error. Sullivan later scored himself for the third run of the inning.

Hal Shackleton pitched for the gasoliers and succeeded in holding the Maple Beach clan to five scattered hits. The Rohm and Haas team scored both its runs with the aid of errors. Shackleton struck out six batters.

The hurlers for the losing aggregation were Danny Keegan and Paul Cervellero who held the winners to six hits. Manager George Dougherty had two out of four to lead the batters.

American Armored Spearheads Storm Across Seine Northwest of Paris

to find sanctuary in the French lines.

French authorities revealed that the Germans had heavily mined the territory west of Toulon in the mistaken belief that Allied landings would be attempted there. There was so much talk that Allied landings would take place east of the city that the Nazis discounted this possibility—and that's where the Americans struck on D-Day.

Allied naval guns are blasting the harbor defenses in support of the swiftly advancing ground forces, who stepped up their drive in an effort to keep the Germans off balance.

By International News Service
Victorious Allied advances in both northwestern and southern France were reported today by Allied communiques.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters disclosed that Allied units had reached the Seine River at the vicinity of Mantes and Gassicourt, northwest of Paris, in a move to prevent the retreat of trapped Nazi Seventh Army forces toward safety, while Allied units to the north made further progress toward Lisieux.

American Third Army forces were reported to have cleared the last Nazi defenders from the town of Argentan in Normandy.

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

farm west of Holland, last week, was well attended. A large number of pigs were sold. Brood sows brought around $20 and sows with litters of five or six pigs brought around $30. A 400-pound boar brought $15.

Cows in profit or near springers brought about $100, and mature bulls sold from $70 to $120. Younger bulls and yearling heifers sold for about $50.

Three horses brought about $50 each, and a riding horse went to the high bidder for $90.

A young Langhorne man, Alvin S. Rogers, 8 2/c, aged 18, has been in four major battles, according to letters recently sent his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Daly, Station avenue.

He states that from his battle station on the bridge, as a member of the signalling unit, he has a front row seat to action.

He is assigned to the U. S. S. Nevada, "the great ship which arose from a Pearl Harbor grave."

BRISTOL ALL-STARS WILL PLAY SECOND GAME OF THE SEASON HERE TOMORROW; MEET U. S. M. C. W. R. TEAM

The Bristol All-Stars will play its second game of the season tomorrow evening on the high school field meeting the USMC Depot of Supplies, Women's Reserve. Game is scheduled to begin at 6:15 o'clock with State Senator Howard I. James tossing out the first ball. The proceeds of the game will be given to the Navy Relief Society.

Coach Frank Fields and his assistant, Joe Valenti, have announced that there will be no change in the All-Stars' lineup with the manager intending to give as many girls as possible a chance to get in the tilt.

The Marines' softball team has won 20 games this season and also captured the first half of the Women's All-Service Softball League of Philadelphia.

Leading the team is its coach and manager, Sgt. Gwendolyn "Tex" Shearer, first sacker, who established somewhat of a record in a recent game against Provident Mutual Field Club girls by getting four imports in 1937 were equal to, or greater than, any other year in our history for which data are available, including the boom year 1929.

"(4) Perhaps even more significant is the fact that our tariff reductions on more than a thousand import items lost the National Government an average of over $200,000,000 a year in revenue—comparing the two 5-year periods, 1925-1929 and 1935-1939. In 1939, customs duties collected were $200,000,000 less than in 1929.

"That means a loss of revenue of from two to three billion dollars in a ten year period—even though the physical volume of imports remained the same.

"In 1939 the ratio of duties collected to foreign invoice value of dutiable imports was 44.7 per cent; by 1940 the ratio had been reduced to 34.3 per cent, a reduction of almost 25 per cent, or equal to about a 40 per cent reduction on items upon which reductions had been made.

"(5) What about concessions by other countries? The truth is that few foreign countries have systems of income and profits taxes such as we have developed in the United States. In fact, before the war, the 60 leading nations and dominions outside of the United States and U. S. S. R.) had tariffs about double the average imposed by the United States in terms of total imports and total revenue collected.

"Less than 10 per cent of our normal national revenue comes from tariffs, whereas the foreign average is nearly 25 per cent of their total revenue, or five billion dollars, out of total annual revenue of about twenty billion dollars.

"They have not and perhaps cannot sacrifice their revenue in order to please the United States or to help us to carry out some new trad: philosophy—certainly not merely to help us to build up our export market, although they are pleased to see us open our American market to their exports.

"Altogether, facts rapidly coming to light indicate that our Reciprocal Trade Agreements offers little or no basis for solving our postwar international economic problems. On the contrary, great harm may result if the American market is made a dumping ground for the products of foreign agriculture and labor with incomparably lower wages and living standards.

carried through their program virtually unchecked—and both North and South still bear the scars of the preventable wounds inflicted because a firm and skillful hand was missing at the national capital.

Were Truman to become President, he would find a Congress already sullen and restive, held down only by the pressure of the War; he would find a country staggering under a frightful national debt; he would find once more and at his elbow, claiming reward for having put him in office, the same old extremists of the Reconstruction-by-force school—communists, political bosses, labor over-lords, social-upheavalists. Also he would find a world torn with international stresses of which he hasn't the faintest conception.

One probably couldn't find, in all America, a hundred competent citizens who honestly believe that Senator Truman has the capacity, skill, integrity, determination and tact, plus the confidence of the American people, necessary to hold a tight rein over such unruly horses.

Yet a vote for the Democratic ticket is potentially a vote for Truman for President—during post-war reconstruction.

This is a good season to remember the old Railroad crossing sign:

DURING the past year America has acquired a new vocabulary. Men speak glibly now of LST's and know what they're talking about. B-17 has ceased to be a term known only to airplane designers... for the boy going to school knows that's the Flying Fortress... just as he has learned the B-29 is the "Superfortress."

Not so famous... because not so spectacular... is the T-2. But without the T-2, all the motorized might of our land, sea and air forces would be at a standstill. No plane would fly... no motorized equipment would roll... no ship patrol the oceans without the fuel Sunbuilt T-2 tankers carry to ports around the world.

From the Sun Shipyard at Chester six or more T-2 tankers take to the sea each month... six tankships of the most modern welded construction... each able to carry 5,500,000 gallons of gasoline at a far higher speed than pre-war tankers. Along with this increased speed on the sea, modern loading and unloading equipment has materially reduced the time spent in port... and speeded up oil deliveries to all fighting fronts. And that Sun Ship contribution toward winning the war would be even greater if additional manpower could be secured!
